

CourtrightCollective

YOUR SITE, HONESTLY

PREPARED BY COURTRIGHT COLLECTIVE

Website Teardown

A straight look at what your site is doing, what it is not, and the five things to fix first.

TEARDOWN

PRIORITIZED FIXES

NASHVILLE

COURTRIGHTCO.COM

BUILT IN NASHVILLE

Website Teardown

Prepared for: [CLIENT NAME] Site: [URL] Date: [DATE] Prepared by: Dillon Courtright, Courtright Collective

The short version

[Three or four sentences. What the site is doing well, what the single biggest problem is, and what you would fix first. Write this section last. If they only read one paragraph, this is the one.]

If you do nothing else, do this: [The one fix.]

1. The eight second test

I opened your site the way a stranger does. Cold, on a phone, with no context.

QUESTION	WHAT I GOT	SHOULD BE
What do they do?	[what you understood]	[what it should say]
Who is it for?	[answer]	[answer]
What do they want me to do?	[answer]	[answer]
Do I trust them?	[answer]	[answer]
How do I contact them?	[answer]	[answer]

[Two or three sentences on what this means in practice.]

2. First impression, above the fold

On mobile: [what is visible before scrolling, and what that communicates]

On desktop: [same]

What is working: [be specific and genuine, there is always something]

What is costing you:

- [Issue, and the consequence in plain terms]
- [Issue, and the consequence]
- [Issue, and the consequence]

3. The path to contacting you

I counted the taps from landing to being able to actually reach you.

Taps required: [number] Should be: 1

WHERE	IS THERE A WAY TO CONTACT YOU?	NOTES
Top of homepage	[yes/no]	[note]
Sticky header on mobile	[yes/no]	[note]
Bottom of homepage	[yes/no]	[note]
Every service page	[yes/no]	[note]
Footer	[yes/no]	[note]

The specific problem: [e.g. the phone number is an image, so it cannot be tapped. Or the form asks for nine fields.]

4. Copy

What your site currently says you do: [quote it back to them, exactly]

What I think you actually do: [the clearer version]

Specific rewrites:

WHERE	CURRENTLY SAYS	TRY INSTEAD
Hero headline	[current]	[rewrite]
Subhead	[current]	[rewrite]
Main button	[current]	[rewrite]
About opener	[current]	[rewrite]

[One or two sentences on the pattern you see in their writing, and the one habit to change.]

5. Trust

What a stranger looks for before they hand over money, and whether it is there.

- [] Real photos of real work, not stock
- [] Reviews or testimonials, with names
- [] A physical location or service area
- [] Years in business, or a founding story

- [] A real person visible somewhere on the site
- [] Pricing, or at least a range
- [] Licenses, certifications, insurance, where relevant
- [] A phone number that is not hidden

Missing: [list] Why it matters here: [one or two sentences, specific to their industry]

6. Speed and mobile

CHECK	RESULT	NOTES
Loads on mobile in under 3 seconds	[yes/no]	[note]
Largest images optimized	[yes/no]	[note]
Text readable without zooming	[yes/no]	[note]
Tap targets big enough	[yes/no]	[note]
Nothing overflows sideways	[yes/no]	[note]
Phone number is a tap-to-call link	[yes/no]	[note]
Forms work on a phone	[yes/no]	[note]

The biggest speed problem: [usually a huge unoptimized image or a pile of third-party scripts]

7. Getting found

Not a full SEO audit, just the basics that are either there or they are not.

CHECK	RESULT
Page titles written for humans and search	[yes/no]
Meta descriptions present	[yes/no]
One clear H1 per page	[yes/no]
Business name, address, phone on the site	[yes/no]
Matches the Google Business Profile exactly	[yes/no]
Images have alt text	[yes/no]
HTTPS working, no mixed content	[yes/no]
Indexed by Google (<code>site:</code> search)	[yes/no]

Notes: [anything specific]

8. The five things to fix first

Ranked by impact divided by effort. Do them in this order.

▪ 1. [Fix]

Why: [the consequence of not doing it] Effort: [15 minutes / an afternoon / a developer]

How: [specific enough that they could do it themselves]

▪ 2. [Fix]

Why: [reason] Effort: [estimate] How: [specifics]

▪ 3. [Fix]

Why: [reason] Effort: [estimate] How: [specifics]

▪ 4. [Fix]

Why: [reason] Effort: [estimate] How: [specifics]

▪ 5. [Fix]

Why: [reason] Effort: [estimate] How: [specifics]

9. What I would leave alone

[Two or three things they might be tempted to change but should not. This section builds more trust than any of the criticism, because it proves you are not just generating work for yourself.]

Want me to do it?

Everything above is yours whether we work together or not. Genuinely, take this to any developer.

If you would rather not do it yourself, here is what it would cost with us:

- [The five fixes above, done] : [price] , about [timeframe]
- [Full rebuild, if that is the honest recommendation] : [price] , about [timeframe]

No pressure and no follow-up sequence. If you want it, reply to the email this came in on.

Dillon Courtright Courtright Collective, Nashville courtrightco.com

Internal notes, delete before sending

Time budget: 60 to 75 minutes total.

- 10 min: cold pass on mobile. Screenshot everything before you learn anything about them

- 10 min: read every page, note the copy verbatim
- 10 min: contact paths, forms, trust signals
- 10 min: speed and mobile checks, run PageSpeed Insights
- 10 min: SEO basics, `site:` search, check the Google Business Profile matches
- 20 min: write it up

Rules:

- Never say "your site is bad." Say what a visitor experiences and what it costs
- Every criticism gets a specific fix. No exceptions
- Always include section 9. It is the one that gets you the reply
- Quote their copy exactly. People do not remember what their own site says
- If the honest answer is "this site is fine, spend your money on ads instead," say that. You will lose one project and gain somebody who tells people about you