times you've said that this month while doing the thing manually. again.

Aimtogro is the AI co-pilot that finally does it for you. Bookkeeping, inbox, reports, follow-ups. You keep saying it. It starts doing it.

9:41 PM

The kids are asleep. And you're doing invoices.

You didn't start a business to spend your nights on paperwork. Aimgro keeps the books current, drafts the follow-ups, and builds the reports while you're actually living your life. Basically, it takes the night shift.

 Big enough to hire help

Too big for spreadsheets. Not ready to hire. Welcome to the middle.

The middle used to mean doing it all yourself. Now it means an AI co-pilot that handles the books, the inbox, and the reports for less than a day of anyone's salary.

THE WEEKLY MATH

Busywork is a part-time job you never applied for.

Twelve hours a week reviewing instead of doing.

That's a whole workday and a half, back. Every week.
